Cecilians witnessed Technovations – TRYST 2018, Annual Technical Festival at IIT Delhi

Cecilian Tushar Nain and Akshit Gupta of class XII Science stream were the lucky participants at Technovations – TRYST 2018, IIT-Delhi. The annual technical festival was organized for the young budding curious school students with a scientific temperament. Both students presented their innovative idea on future of technology. Their abstract of project – ‘Chalak’ was much applauded as students presented their power-point presentation to a panel of judges.

Congratulations to the noteworthy achievers as they bagged the third position. A Gift voucher of ₹ 50,000/- for mobile planetarium for the school was also received by the students. Both winners were felicitated in school by Madam Principal. The students shared their unique opportunity and learnings with their fellow students. They also expressed their gratitude to Madam Principal for enabling and encouraging them.
