“Poetry is the rhythmical creation of beauty in words”

With the aim to instill love for poetry in students and enhance its significance for them, St. Cecilia's Public School, New Delhi conducted a poetry recitation competition under the editorial club. Class IX students participated in it.

Raising one's voice through the medium of literature is a very old practice. The topic 'Environment' invited lot of thought-provoking poems that the participants recited. Some of them focused on the beautiful nature and its visual appeal. Some of them had chosen poems to arouse emotions of pity and guilt in the hearts of the listeners due to the miserable condition of our environment. The need to protect it was also highlighted by a few.

It was an educative experience.
