uphold the value of cleanliness always. Different awareness campaigns were being organised at the class level by teachers and the team of eco saviours. Students expressed their creative potential to the fullest in the form of group presentation activities wherein they used the medium of song and skit to depict seven ways of handwashing. Poster making, essay writing, poem recitation slogan writing formed some of the diverse tools wherein students expressed their solidarity to the cause. Students happily participated in the 'cleanliness drive' which was a direct step in the big direction. Team Eco Club worked hands in hands with all the students of diverse age groups and the environment resonated with the spirit of taking every small step possible in this direction.

Madam Principal, Madam Coordinator and all the teachers came out in full support of the students to strengthen this campaign. Students pledged to always uphold the value of cleanliness in the arena of their home, school and the extended community.
